

American beavers build their homes out of sticks and mud that they find in the wetland.

